

Making the difference

The situation:

Our client, a leading global investment bank, was looking at a worldwide strategic initiative to reduce IT costs, increase profitability and harmonise it's IT operations with particular emphasis on risk management.

Our solution:

The Result:

Our client now has a standardised risk platform with a recognised international vendor. This harmonisation has allowed our client to conform to the regulatory standards while moving forward with their international growth plans.

"First Derivative's consulting offered us both in-depth technological support and overall business acumen in helping us decide which vendor to choose and how best to harmonise our front and middle office IT operations. I would have no hesitation on recommending First Derivatives....."
